A word from Mr Ward

This week I'm writing my report from Wollongong, where I'm attending my first face to face Principal conference since 2019. It's at these conferences where I'm able to reconnect with my colleagues, share, listen and learn. I truly believe these opportunities make me a better leader, which in turns drives improvement. So far, I've had the pleasure of listening to Julia Baird (journalist), Anita Heiss (author and activist) and Jennifer Robinson (Human rights lawyer). If you take the time to google any of these amazing women, you too will be very impressed with what they have achieved.

Since the last newsletter I cannot keep up with the amazing opportunities we provide and the great things happening at Finley High School.

Primary School Visits

In the last fortnight we have visited the St Joseph's Jerilderie, Jerilderie Public School, Blighty Public School and Berrigan Public School. Once again we were warmly welcomed and enjoyed speaking with the students. Popular topics always include what subjects they will be doing, how many students will be in Year 7, a canteen that runs every day, the agriculture program, sport and the creative and performing arts. We look forward to visiting Tocumwal and Barooga in the coming weeks.

Careers

I would like to extend a massive thank you to Mrs White and Mrs Philpot who are doing some extraordinary things in Careers. This is just a snapshot of what has been offered to students in recent weeks.

- White card course
- Helping students get USI numbers for TAFE courses
- TAFE Youth Engagement Programs for Year 9/10 students in construction and photography
- Year 10 Careers Day Out in Shepparton
- National Careers Week activities - staff profiles and competition in the library and dress up day
- Yr 12 Melbourne Tertiary Tour to LaTrobe, RMIT, Melbourne Polytechnic for Trades and William Angliss for TAFE
- Yr 12 transition interviews
- Year 10 work experience organisation
- Yr 12 weekly Careers Newsletter for Year 12
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander university support
- University early entry applications
- Parent calls to encourage and support student participation in work experience and excursions
- University of Wollongong excursion, Wollongong
- Berrigan Shire Careers and Employment EXPO on 15th June
- Organisation of the resilience workshop program for Yrs 7-12
- Charles Sturt University Future Moves program for Years 7-11, to happen next term
- School Based Apprenticeship Training organisation and management as well as Distance Education.

Year 12 Interviews

This week Mrs White and I interviewed the second group of Year 12 students. This means we have now interviewed almost all of Year 12. We have been immensely impressed with their attitude, resolve, and plans for the future. Some students indicated a clear vision and their plans are set and in motion, whilst I believe other students valued the insight and ideas, we were able to present. If you require further assistance or support with the decisions of your son or daughter, please don't hesitate in calling Mrs White.

ANZAC BBQ

We recently held and presented all those students who marched on ANZAC day a certificate and a sausage sandwich in a small ceremony, expressing our appreciation and support for representing the school at each of our local towns. Mr Don McKellar was a special guest, as an ex Vietnam Veteran to present the students with their certificates. Again thank you, students for taking the time to represent the school at your local ANZAC day service.

RAAF Wagga Excursion

Thank you to Mr O'Leary who took a small group of students to RAAF Wagga recently for a STEM initiative. From all reports everyone had a wonderful time, in particular Mr O'Leary.

Riverina Dance Festival

Our dance team led by Ms Bower and Sharree Goesch performed recently in Griffith at the Riverina Dance Festival. They were wonderful and did a terrific job. Special thanks go to Mr Tessier who drove the team up, leaving at 5:30am returning at 11:30pm. Thank you to the staff who also made the trip up and supported the team. Again, well done to all the team who have put in countless hours of their time, it was so rewarding seeing all your hard work pay off.

Athletics Carnival

Mr Tooke gave the early predication with the weather that we would be fine, and he is a maestro. It was a great day and was summed up at the end with the energy of the students during the relays and final sprints. Thank you to every staff member for your efforts in ensuring we had a great day and again to Mr Tooke and Mr Hay, thank you for coordinating such a successful and smooth running event. We wish all those students who are representing Finley High School all the best at the next level.

Melbourne Art Excursion

Well done to Miss Perry and Mrs O'Leary who recently took Year 11 and 12 students to Melbourne for an Art excursion. Thanks also goes to Mr Tessier who was once again the bus driver, from all accounts it was a wonderful experience.

Year 10 Work Experience

It was great to hear and see in person so many wonderful stories that came out of Work Experience. Mrs Philpot did a tremendous job coordinating and to every teacher who checked up on a Year 10 student, thank you. The students I visited and the feedback from others was that they were an exceptional group. Job offers came forth at a rapid rate.

State Squash

Congratulations to Sienna and Jasmine Burke who recently played squash for the Riverina team in Thornleigh, Sydney. Sienna and Jasmine have also made the NSW Combined High Schools side to play Queensland and New Zealand later in the year in Brisbane. This is a phenomenal achievement, well done girls.

Jeff Ward,
Principal

Awards

At last week's Year 7 meeting, Year Advisor awards were given out to those who demonstrated encouragement of others, being an excellent participator and for accepting challenges with enthusiasm on the Year 7 camp.

Front – L to R: Shae Darko, Tahni Dunne, Cayden Field, Lillianna MeyerVale and Abbey Lucas
(Absent: Melina Sneddon and Lucy Pyle)*

Yr 7 Tech 2

Last week, students Toby Loomes and Xavier Binns were sharing their honey sponge roll. The cooking was created in Miss Treacy's Yr 7 Tech class - extremely delicious!!

Assembly

At Tuesday's Assembly the following awards were presented

Jacob Armer and Ruby Neessen Received Principal Awards for their work with
The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders morning tea

English Faculty Awards

PDHPE Faculty Awards

Very happy awardees for their spectacular dress ups on National Careers Day!

University of Wollongong Excursion

On the 8th and 9th of June eleven Yr 12 students braved the arctic conditions and the exhaustingly long bus trip to attend Discovery Day at the University of Wollongong. Despite a few hiccups with the planned accommodation at Kooloobong Village the group stayed on the beach at Fairy Meadow at the Wollongong Surf Leisure Resort.

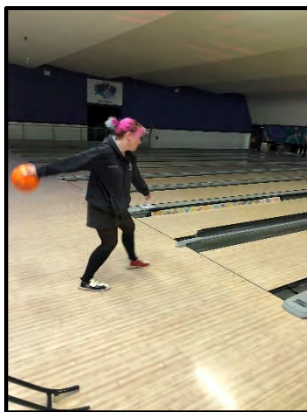

Upon arrival the group had an extensive private tour of Kooloobong Village to make up for not being able to stay there this year. This proved invaluable for them to not only experience the inner workings of a university dorm but to also network with the Discovery Day mascot aka Baxter and his side kick Maycee who also happened to be the dance off judges the next day. More about this later.

The tour was followed by a Mexican fiesta before the group headed out for some 10 pin bowling. Mr Noonan used his vast local knowledge to prove he knew as much if not more than Siri and consequently cemented his place forever as Mrs White's UOW sidekick. The bowling was hotly contested but LJ Burdon proved to be the dark horse coming home with a series of strikes and spares to be the outright champion beating bus driver Lachie who had asserted an early dominance. Despite the gale force winds a stop at Cold Rock was the final outing before heading back to the resort to watch the State of Origin.

An early start saw the group enjoy a very peaceful and serene walk along the beach before having breakfast back at UOW. The day kicked off with an entertaining keynote address before students headed off to their selected workshops. Lunchtime saw the dance competition where Finley High School tore up the dance floor. This coupled with a prior acquaintance with the judges, saw Lucy Armer take the gong (and a UOW Hoodie) of Discovery Day Dancing Queen. Ben Anthony managed to ask all the right questions to also score himself a UOW hoodie for his efforts.

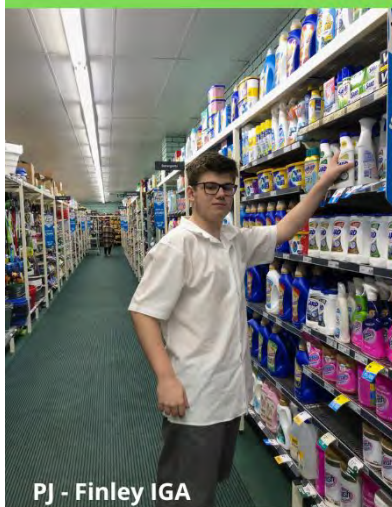

After a great day of living like real uni students it was back on the bus for the long haul home. Some slept, some sat contemplating their new possible post school plans and some worked industriously on their Business assignments due the next day. All in all the students were fantastic ambassadors for Finley High School. Their maturity and exemplary behaviour and positive attitudes made for a wonderful experience. Thanks also goes to Mr Noonan for his guidance in directing the group around Wollongong.

Farm Case Study

Our Year 11 Agriculture class finally were able to make the trip to Robertsons' farms for the Farm Case Study visit on Monday 30th of June. Unfortunately, it was very wet and cold, but the enthusiastic bunch of students were still able to gain some valuable insights into the operations of the farm.

Among the highlights we were able to see included; inspecting the cotton picker, seeing the cotton crops, entering one of the huge 1000 tonne empty silos that are used to dry and store grain, seeing the driplines on the lateral irrigator, hearing about the capability of the John Deere app and learning about soil moisture monitoring.

We had a great day. Thanks to Cameron Robertson for allowing us to visit and taking the time to show us around. Thank you also for the tasty BBQ at the end of the day.

Riding Develops Abilities (RDA)

We have included some more news outlining the RDA. Abigail Searle, Kade Buckley and Taralee Graham attend Riding Develops Abilities in Cobram every fortnight. The students participate in a range of activities whilst mounted on horseback. Horseback riding is an excellent activity as the balance required helps to engage both sides of the body and brain whilst having fun directing tennis balls down a chute, tent pegging and shooting hoops. Yes, all from horseback with the help of the wonderful RDA volunteers. The smiles on the faces of the students who participate is an absolute sight to behold.

History

One of the topics 'World History' students have studied this semester is Family History. For this, they were tasked with choosing an ancestor of theirs and completing research into their life and the time period in which they lived. We would like to share the life stories of Carl Friedrich Kleinschmidt, Leonard Hubertus Ernest Bauer, Florence Jean Robertson and Michele Di Lullo.

Miss Wadsworth – History Teacher

This week we feature Carl Friedrich Kleinschmidt and Florence Jean Robertson

Carl Friedrich Kleinschmidt

Friedrich was born in a small provincial village on the 7th of September 1820, in Prussia. He was born in Stegelitz, a village 80km North of Berlin, however he was raised in the village of Berkenlatten, where he met his wife, Justine Caroline who he married on the 20th of January 1850. Their first child, Ferdinand was born in 1849, their second child Bertha was born in 1853, their third child Friedrich was born in 1855, and Albert who was born in 1857.

Friedrich completed the mandatory military service required of male Prussian citizens and was discharged from the 8th infantry Regiment in 1859. Friedrich was the village carpenter, and kept a respectable sized orchard as well, but due to the strict social and economic hierarchy of Prussia in the mid 19th century, land ownership was impossible for the working class. For the last hundred years, the Kleinschmidt family had been on land that was leased from the noble von Arnim family. Friedrich, enticed by the prospect of owning and working his own land, filled out an 'Entlassungs-urkunde', or a document that granted full governmental approval to emigrate from Prussia to Australia. This granted them official permission to leave, however a clause of the contract is that the family had to renounce their Prussian citizenship and accept that they will not be accepted back into the country.

On the 15th of September 1863, Friedrich, Justine, and their four children boarded the ship named 'Susanne Godeffroy' in the Port of Hamburg with 16 other families to begin the voyage to Queensland. Life on the ship was hard, with shortages in drinking water and constant sea-sickness, but after five months of sailing on rough seas, Friedrich and his family anchored in Moreton Bay on the 18th of January 1864.

Friedrich then laid claim to the land near Pimpama Island and Logan River, planning to grow cane in the lagoons and swamps that he now owned. The town that the Kleinschmidt family helped found was named Steiglitz, in honour of the village that they had left behind. The Stegelitz Sugar Mill was successful, and made Friedrich a wealthy man processing sugar cane and arrowroot. The mill continued to be run long after Friedrich's death. The Kleinschmidt farmers were even featured in a political cartoon scrutinising the fact that so much Australian-grown produce was being exported to Germany.

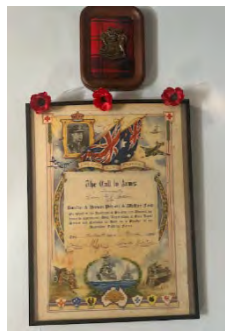

Friedrich and Justine had six more children in Queensland, Otto in October 1865, Johann in October 1867, Anna in 1868, Magdalene in 1870, Auguste in August 1872, and Carl in 1875.

Friedrich died in 1908 and Justine died in 1908, and they are both buried in Pimpama Island Cemetery, facing the jungle that they were met when they first arrived four decades prior, leaving behind a legacy of pioneering and industriousness.

Florence Jean Robertson

Robertson
Coat of Arms.

Florence Jean Robertson was born on the 13th of August 1923. Her parents are Andrew Alexander Robertson and Alma Elizabeth Thomas. Her siblings are David, Lance, Eric, and Jessie. She had 5 children, Neil (1946), Ian (1949), Kaye (1952), Glen (1957), and Douglas (1959). Her children were born quite separate compared to others during this time period. She played cricket with the boys when she was young and played tennis when she was older.

Florence has experienced what life has to offer. Living as a child through the Great Depression, her parents were told to live off $60 for groceries, for a whole year. She went to school until she was 15 years old and met the love of her life at this time as well. His name was Herbert James Sutton. Herbert was an engineer and went to the army. Leaving Florence at home while he went around the country and to Papua New Guinea. She also had her two brothers go to war and her father who went to WW1 and ended up going to Gallipoli. The war significantly affected Florence's father, Andrew, as he (and I quote from Florence), "was a crippled". He was broken and lost after the war. When her loved ones returned they didn't want to talk so Florence

She worked as a nurse, delivering babies and was restricted from leaving the hospital in Wagga Wagga. She was needing money to support her family and also wanted to work, as she enjoyed her job. She was only able to leave once her brother got sick and Florence went back home to the farm to help out her mother. Living far out of town, she didn't see many other people. She went on the horse and sulky to drive to places. There weren't many communication systems, but a telecom was what was available. They had to get the battery and take it to the postman to charge it or get a new one. She enjoyed the isolation as she never liked to "be in the limelight", loving to be in the background. She seems very closed off now, not a very trusting person and not open to others, voluntarily.

She got her driver's license when she was married and drove around her kids, to go to mainly sporting events. She never really liked cars. When asked about horses she mentions how her husband loved them but she didn't really like them either. So I ask the controversial question, "which one would you prefer, a horse or car, if you had to pick?" After a lot of thought she finally concludes that she would probably prefer a horse. Her mind is open to the evolution of technologies, but she still would prefer what she grew up with, what's familiar. Her driver's license was confiscated in 2004 because of her age and she didn't mind it being taken away.

Throughout her life she lived at Berelyn at New Dale, then went to Ballarat for 2 and a half years, got married and went to Sydney for 12 months, went to Wagga to work as a nurse then went to Deniliquin and has lived there ever since.

The events taken place in her life are nothing short of extraordinary, she has faced tragedy, loss, heartbreak and her resilience to keep going is incredible. She's living a long, fulfilled life. She currently lives in Deniliquin still, is 98 years old and counting, still happy and still getting out into the world.

P & C News

At the recent P & C meeting the executive was confirmed for 2022.

ATHLETICS CARNIVAL

Visual Arts - Melbourne Excursion

On Friday 10th of May, Ms Perry, Mrs O'Leary, Mr Tessier & Emily Bird took senior Visual Arts students on an excursion to Melbourne where they gathered inspiration for their major works from a range of exhibitions. The day kicked off with a visit to some city lanes that are renowned for their street art, including ACDC and Hosier. The group then went to the Ian Potter Centre at the National Gallery of Victoria where they had access to a range of exhibits including a portraiture prize and Indigenous collection. Students gathered inspiration and gained insight into the passions and concerns of other young artists from schools across Victoria in Top Arts 2022, which showcases extraordinary works of art that achieved outstanding Year 12 results. After lunch at the DFO the group entered the Van Gogh Alive experience at the LUME. Here students immersed themselves into Van Gogh's artistry through an incredible installation display. A wonderful day was had by all.

Music, Art, Dance and Design (MADDD)

With preparations well underway for this year's MADDD performance, those students involved have been interviewing some of the contestants. We will feature the interviews over the next couple of weeks

GOING MADDD FOR THE WINNER

MADDD Participant Dan Barnes Prepares for Primo Performance 20/05/22

By Sophie Roe

The MADDD evening is held at FHS every year, involving music, drama, dance and design. Students and teachers participate at this event performing either as a solo, duo, or as a group. Earlier in the week there is a daytime matinee performance of the students performing to feeder primary school students. One of the participants of MADDD is a year 11 senior student Dan Barnes. We sat down with him to discuss MADDD and his past performances, his values and beliefs. He plays guitar and is known to be one of the popular music/drama students in the school, and studies music as a subject at the school.

How long have you participated in MADDD in your school life?

"This is my second year now"

What were your past performances?

"My past performances were when I played in a band with Mr Burdon, Cate Turley, Destin and myself".

What's your purpose for participating in this fun event?

"Mostly I was talked into it by LJ Burdon. But I also want to improve my ability to play on stage".

Has participating in MADDD boosted up your self-esteem and your comfort zone? If so, what improvements were made?

"Yes definitely. It has improved my ability to speak in front of people better, and overall confidence as a person".

Would you encourage new junior students to participate? If so, what would your encouragement statement be for them?

"Definitely. It is a great opportunity not only to improve self-confidence, but to get other people confident in you and your talents".

What song pieces do you like performing?

"In front of a big crowd it is probably going to be my original songs. In smaller areas that like recognisable songs, like ADC and stuff like that, I usually go with it".

When the pandemic first hit in 2020, the MADDD Night event was cancelled that year. How has it affected you and the other students that wanted to perform?

"I'm not too sure about the other students but, it affected me in a way because that was going to be my first year performing. Sadly it was not."

Do you want to continue performing or playing an instrument later in life?

"Definitely! That is actually my one goal in life."

Has MADDD helped you figure out your sense of identity? Has performing made you a better person?

"Yes! Performing has made me respect myself and my skills, especially as a guitarist much more; and has made part of my actual personality".

Do you believe music, drama, and the arts have brought a significant impact in society? And is this a tool to get people and communities together?

"I'd say definitely, because music, art and all of those things that draw people together like creativity. People are created with art and people are created with music. And when people get creative together, beautiful things happen."

This year MADDD will happen on Wednesday evening 22nd June with a matinee performance taking place on Tuesday 21st June.
